CANADIAN NORTHERN RAILWAY HISTORY FEATURED IN CANADIAN RAIL

Douglas N.W. Smith, a noted railway author and researcher, has written four excellent articles on "The Origins of the Canadian Northern Railway"—starting with Part 1 featuring the genesis of the company in Manitoba in the Jan.-Feb. 2016 issue.

Canadian Rail is the bi-monthly publication of the Canadian Railroad Historical Association (CRHA), and these articles are recommended reading for anyone interested in the history of the Canadian Northern. There are interesting photos of the Canadian Northern from local museum archives—in particular illustrating the route between Winnipeg and Port Arthur, contained therein. Copies of the 2016 editions, along with the Jan.-Feb. 2017 edition containing Mr. Smith's well-researched articles are available by contacting the CRHA at www.exporail.org, or by writing Mr. Peter Murphy, CRHA, 110 rue St-Pierre, St-Constant, QC J5A 1G7.

BIG VALLEY HAPPENINGS

The Big Valley Station continues to get regular use this winter. Along with the regular groups who use it, Alberta Prairie Railway conducted a Maintenance of Way training course on February 16. It was facilitated by Canadian Northern member Brent Cheek and I was able to attend. Well done, Brent. In April, Alberta Transportation will be meeting with all the Alberta passenger train operators at the station. This meeting will be hosted by Alberta Prairie Railway.

The big news for Big Valley is the announcement of Rails and Tales 2017 from June 28 to July 5. This will be an eight-day schedule of excursions by Alberta Prairie Railway and includes a guest locomotive from Edmonton. The Alberta Railway Museum is bringing their locomotive 1392 to Stettler to work with Alberta Prairie's 41. There will be a number of different kinds of trips with double-headed steam locomotives as well as unique themes.

In conjunction with Alberta Prairie Railway train trips, Rails and Tales 2017 will be presenting an exposition of vintage agricultural equipment from June 30 to July 3. It will include full-size steam-, gas- and oil-powered equipment. Displays of double-flywheel hit-and-miss gasoline engines and smaller equipment will also be operational. All of the equipment will be operated by volunteers. The equipment will be from personal collections and heritage preservation groups. Come chat with them about their experiences preserving Alberta history. Bring your family and enjoy a day of steam trains and working historical agriculture equipment. On July 1 we will be conducting a Canada Day celebration while the train is in town in the afternoon.

I'm hoping we can have some Canadian Northern folks on hand at the station to talk about Canadian Northern history over the July long weekend. I know it's a busy time for everyone but if you're available and interested in helping out, please email me at graydonrich@gmail.com.

A beautifully decorated tearoom welcomed 57 people to a Valentine Tea on February 14 put on by Carol Roy, Sharon Ofrim, Norma Ferguson, Carol Rawson and Donny Loewen. The donated china sets were used to add to the atmosphere and helped to make this event special. Sharon made delicious Valentine crepes filled with strawberry sauce and garnished with whipped cream. Each person received a homemade white chocolate heart made by Sharon. The profit from the tea was over $400. Mae Ulrich opened the gift shop and had many customers. A sincere thank you to all. Thank you to Shirley and Donny Loewen for donating the strawberries.

We have had four community bookings over the last two months. School and community bookings are coming in as well for spring.

Thanks to Eleanor White we have two ladies from the Camrose Horticultural society who are organic gardeners who will plant and care for the Victory Garden this year.

Two grants have been received, $2700 from the BRCF for the gates and stiles at Meeting Creek and $1000 from Rotary for the interactive tablets. Thank you to Bill Walker for designing and building the kiosks that will hold tablets used for interpretive displays.

Grants for students have been applied for and we hope that we will be able to hire two this summer.

For the past 19 years, Yvonne Brown the Director of Buzy Bee in Tofield and her volunteers has been saving dishes, railway books and mobilia for the Camrose Railway Station. Bruce and I attended their dinner on March 4 and we were again amazed by the contribution the Buzy Bee Thrift shop makes to their local community, but also to the greater community and beyond. They not only support some organizations financially, but collect items new and second hand for groups such as the scouts, legions, school programs as well as organizations such as Blankets Canada. They also give donations to the Riley, Viking, Tofield and Kingman museums.

This year some of the items of interest we received from Buzy Bee included a place setting of station dishes; a clock with a picture of an elevator and train and a CN Grain Train Mug that will be placed in Meeting Creek; a silver CPR knife, a CN silver spoon, a Duhamel Centennial plate from 1967; a new Mexican train dominos set that will be left at the station for visitors to play during their visits; a book on the history of Prairie Women published in 1950 that contains the story of Mae Olstead from Camrose written in 1917 and several railway books by D.M. Bain. Thank you to Yvonne Brown for being a promoter of our Camrose station for so many years!

Next Friends of the Station meeting will be held on April 25. We have set Bee Days in April as follows: Cookie Baking April 11, opening up and cleaning outside buildings on April 18. These dates are weather dependent. The garden spring clean-up will commence in April as the weather allows.

The Battle River Community Foundation has booked May 17 for their barbeque at the station. If you can help with this event, please call the station.

Dates for work bees at Meeting Creek Natural Linear Park and Grasslands will be announced as they are weather dependent. Please follow our Facebook page for current dates and times for all work bee days.

IN MEMORIAM

Many members of the Canadian Northern Society were saddened on January 24, 2017 with the passing of J.D. (JIM) MACKENZIE of Mirror, Alberta, who was a long-time friend and supporter of the Society's efforts. Jim was 90 years old. In recent years, Jim is possibly best remembered by those associated with our organization as a locomotive engineer and conductor on Alberta Prairie Railway from its very beginnings, and a best friend of the late Walter Kittler, another one of our long-time supporters who is also dearly missed by the railway community in central Alberta.

Jim was born and raised near Luseland, Saskatchewan, where he met and then married Marion Schmidt in 1946. They moved to Mirror where they raised their family, farmed, and were a big part of the community. Jim's work life and retired life revolved around the railway. He started his career with Canadian National in September 1951 as a brakeman working through the ranks to eventual promotion as a steam locomotive engineer. Jim first retired in August 1980, however an opportunity to join Alberta Prairie as a conductor and engineer ten years later was too much to resist. For the rest of the decade, he, Walter Kittler, Gus Annas, Don Millar, and Emerson Robinson formed a experienced group of local railroaders, running steam engine 41, meeting people, and rubbing shoulders with movie stars as they participated in various film productions along the way! Jim also loved to sing—he had a very beautiful and distinct voice and would often entertain on the train with Walter. He also loved to ice fish and volunteer on projects in the community.

Butch Whiteman, a respected retired railroader whose Canadian Northern Railway roots take him back to his uncles at Dauphin, Manitoba, at the turn of the last century has some fond memories of the three years he worked as trainmaster in Mirror, and working with Jim. Butch recalls Jim being involved in a crossing accident with a gravel truck on the highway going to Joffre where the lead unit was derailed and leaking water from the piping underneath. The temperature was down near freezing and Butch recalls Jim asking if he should get under the unit to shut off the water to prevent further damage. Butch told him that the Calder Auxiliary from Edmonton would be there before nightfall and to let them handle it. However, it turned out there wasn't any engine-type mechanical people on the Auxiliary nor did anyone from the diesel shop go down to the wreck, so the pipes ended up freezing and breaking before the locomotive got back to the Calder shop. Of course, there was the typical voices wanting to blame Jim as the "poor old hoghead" for the extra cost involved—and accordingly they wanted Butch to take a statement off him! However, Butch would not put the blame on Jim for any reason because he did offer to climb under the derailed engine and do what he could do and as noted, he had instructed him not too. Butch recalls getting the famous "verbal reprimand" from the shop foreman and superintendent in Calgary, but fortunately for all, that's where the matter was left.

Shortly after that incident, Jim ended up taking his pension. As a result of a medical issue, Jim did not have the opportunity to be honoured on his last trip in the traditional manner afforded to many retiring railroaders. Soon after his official retirement date, Hall of Fame Railroader Harry Home brought the famous CN Mountain type steam locomotive 6060 back from Hanna and Calgary where it had been operating "steam runs" on the Drumheller Sub. as part of Alberta's 75th Anniversary celebration.

The steam run itself didn't happen on the Three Hills Sub between Calgary and Mirror, but of course the equipment including the passenger cars had been deadheaded down to Calgary and back on freight trains 484/485. Northbound from Calgary, the 6060 was marshalled behind the operating diesel units for the return move.

Butch assigned steam veterans Bill Dennis and Don Wilson as the two engineers on 485 northbound handling the 6060. Pulling into Delburne, Butch wanted to get a picture of the 6060 stopped at the old CNR water tank. As a result, the 6060 was put in the lead for the pose when someone walked up and placed a banner on the pilot of the 6060 advertising "Jim MacKenzie's Last Run." Jim showed up and got at the throttle for his final run into Mirror—aboard a steam locomotive no less. The last thing Butch recalls telling everyone at Delburne was "you guys go ahead, but if anything happens, I don't know a damn thing about this!" As far as the record goes, it was another uneventful trip for 485, but for Jim MacKenzie and those fellow railroaders who took advantage of this once and a lifetime opportunity to help him celebrate a great railroad career—it was indeed quite memorable.

6060 at Delburne, Alberta for J. D. Mackenzie's retirement trip, 1980.

Condolences to the family of KEN FLATER who passed at the age of 61 on January 8, 2017. Ken worked at the Camrose Station for a short time in 2015 and will be missed by the Camrose community that he supported.

The Alberta railway preservation community lost a great inspirational leader, friend, and enthusiast on February 6, 2017, with the sudden passage of HERB DIXON. For well over 25 years Herb was the driving force behind the Alberta Railway Museum in Edmonton, presiding over the organization through many transitional years. Herb was a great friend of the Canadian Northern Society and was a collaborative relationship builder—respected by all whom he touched. Our deepest sympathy to the members of the Alberta Railway Museum and to Herb's friends and family.

HANNA ROUNDHOUSE SOCIETY UPDATE

The Hanna Roundhouse Society is planning a “Roundhouse Summer Celebration” August 11 to 13, 2017.

Friday, August 11 Social/Open House

Saturday, August 12 Dinner and Dance

During the day there is the Fall Fair on at the Hanna Museum.

Sunday, August 13 Open Church Service (3rd Annual)

Visit the Hanna Roundhouse Society Facebook page or www.hannaroundhouse.com as more details come available.

We are working on the following:

1. Town of Hanna is re-designating the HRS property under direct control in Town Bylaws since there is no information for a heritage building/property like ours. It will be identified as a museum and community centre activity for future use.
2. HRS and the heritage conservation adviser will be meeting with Superior Codes Calgary to determine what the HRS has to do to be able to hold fundraising events in the roundhouse to meet building code standards for public safety. We were able to do this for our 2015 reunion and we would like to have approval for temporary access for future events while the building is being restored/repared/renovated.

3. A roof assessment has been completed and we plan to start repairs as soon as possible. This may be broken into stages to accommodate the cost.
4. HRS marketing brochure is ready and being used for presentations to prospective investors wishing to invest in the Hanna Restoration Project.
5. President Sandra Beaudoin and Architect Chris Moorhouse will be making a presentation to the Chinook Country Historical Society at the Calgary Public Library, April 25. The presentation will be on the “History, Architecture and Role of the Roundhouse—our inspiring story of saving an important community heritage asset”.

The Hanna Roundhouse is not currently open to the public, but we try to accommodate people for photographs and tours of the building. If you would like an individual tour of the roundhouse or to setup a group tour, please contact Sandra Beaudoin at 403-854-2699. A donation to the Roundhouse Society is required for any tours completed and a tax receipt will be issued.

~ Sandra Beaudoin, HRS

ALONG THESE LINES

The Canadian Northern Society is collaborating with the East Central Alberta Heritage Society and Alberta Prairie Railway to provide interpretive information for visitors to the historic Battle River Subdivision corridor between Camrose, Meeting Creek, Stettler, Big Valley and Drumheller. Building upon Les Kozma’s vision of over 25 years, and our existing physical interpretive signage, we are working to add detailed information to the Canadian Northern Society website that visitors can access via the internet/smart phone as they seek to learn about the region’s railway and related history. This project, thanks to volunteers Rich Graydon, Lorrie Tieg, Dean Tieg, Les Kozma, and S.I. Smith in particular, is a fitting tribute to Canada’s 150th anniversary this year. Check out Along These Lines at www.canadiannorthern.ca to visit the fruits of our labour to date.

As part of the Along These Lines project we are also planning new interpretive signage at the GTP Viking depot (contrasting the GTP with the Canadian Northern), the Hanna Roundhouse, and improved replacement signage at the Big Valley Roundhouse. Of special note this year, the Canadian Northern Society is working to support “Rails and Tales” which will see the operation of double-headed steam locomotive excursions between June 28 and July 5, 2017 on the Alberta Prairie Railway—featuring AP’s venerable 2-8-0 Consolidation No. 41, and 1913 MLW-built Canadian Northern ten-wheeler No.

1392 —owned by the Alberta Railway Museum. To contribute to the success of this interesting event, we are seeking volunteers to serve as rail history interpreters at the Big Valley Station and roundhouse, and are active in the clean-up and eventual interpretation of the Canadian Northern Railway’s former junction of its Brazeau extension at Warden, Alberta. We are constructing a replica train order office to be used in train order delivery demonstrations, removing vegetation from the former water tank foundation, and making repairs to the train register station on the south end of the yard. Volunteers are needed at Camrose for the construction of the train order office and at Warden for the clean up efforts. Please contact Richard Graydon at graydonrich@gmail.com if interested in helping.
